He received a sentence of 51 months imprisonment, followed by a four year term of supervised release with conditions to include that he not commit another federal, state, or local crime; not illegally possess a controlled substance; refrain from any unlawful use of a controlled substance; submit to one drug test within 15 days of release from imprisonment and at least two periodic drug tests thereafter; not possess a firearm; comply with the standard conditions of supervision; refrain from the use of any and all alcoholic beverages; participate in a program approved by the U.S. Probation Office for treatment of narcotic addiction or drug or alcohol dependency, which will include testing for the detection of substance use or abuse; obtain and maintain gainful employment; and pay a $100 special assessment fee. Conditions modified on October 24, 2005 to include that he submit to one drug test within 15 days of release from imprisonment and at least two periodic drug tests thereafter, not to exceed eight tests per month, as directed by the probation officer.
